Lynn,
We had lots of fun in science this year.
I hope we become better friends next year. Good luck this year. I will see you during the summer. I probably will because I will be in the neighborhood most of the summer. He leaves for college in the fall
so we have to make the best out of the summer.

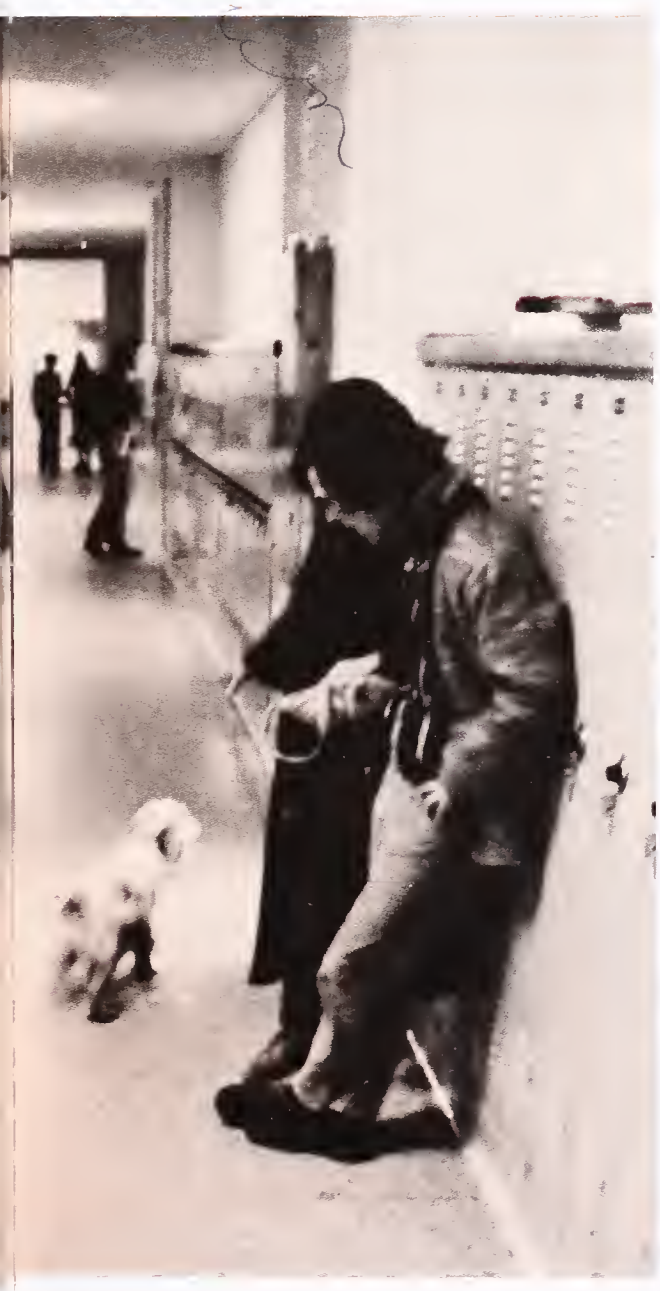
Time it was,
And what a time it was,

A time of innocence,



A time of confidences.

Lynn,
A superly nice girl with a beautiful smile. I hope we'll be in some of the same classes next year, so we can get to know each other better. Good luck always. *Lynn (another)

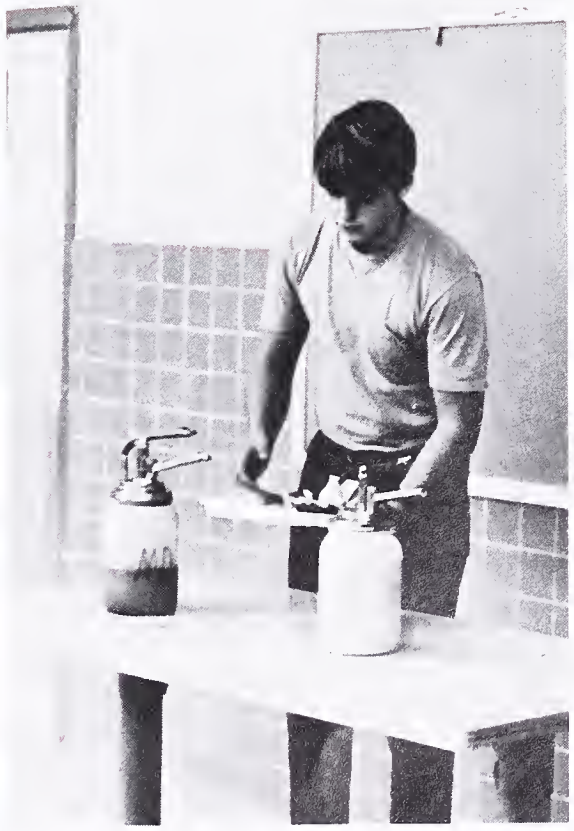
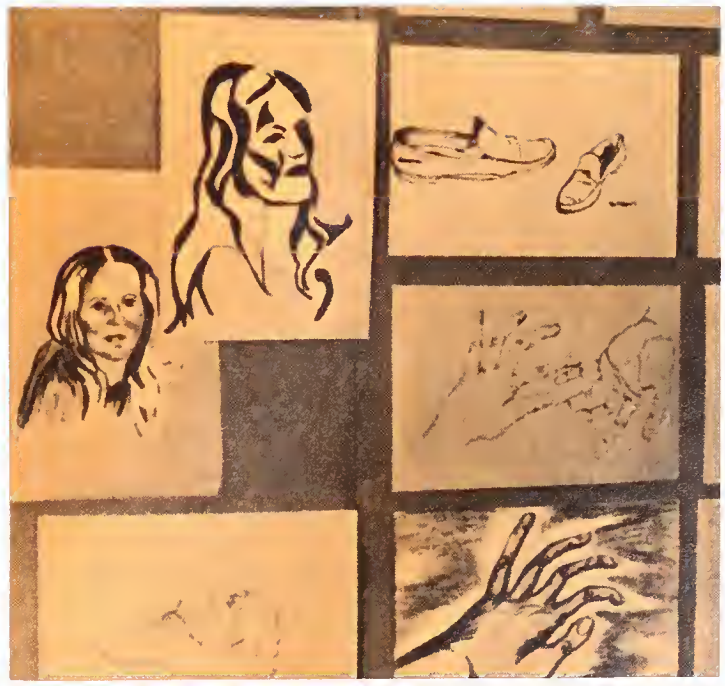
DO NOT ERASE

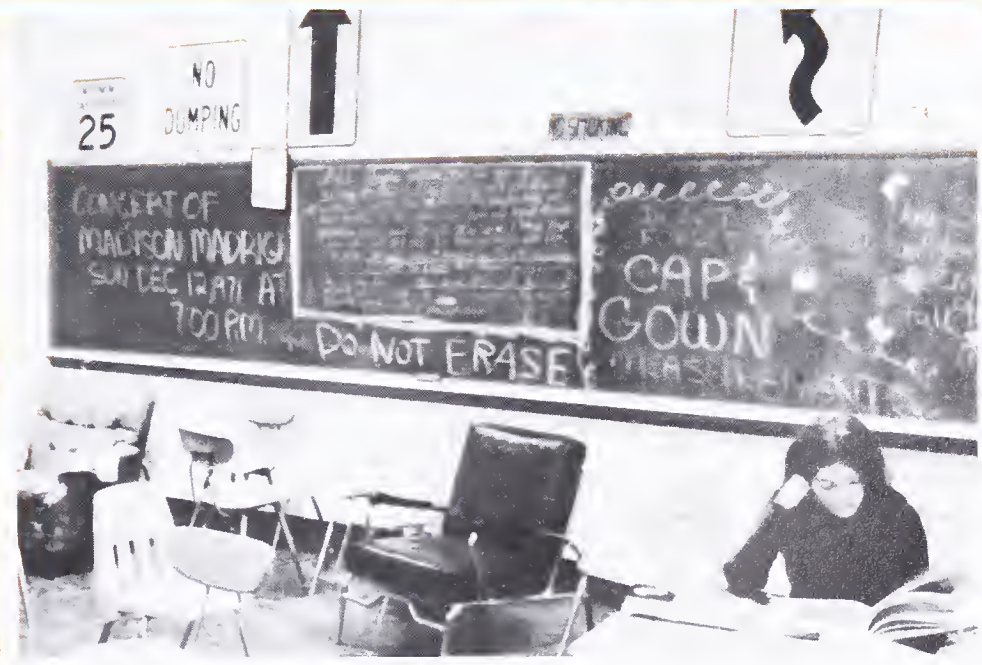


Preserve your memories;
They're all that's left you.



Aware of the necessary changes and realizing that the changes made are for the better, Madison once again, passed through a transition stage. The major alteration that was noted was the faculty turnover and the installment of a new principal. Both students and faculty experienced and benefitted from the many changes in schedules, school services, student activities, and clubs.

CHANGE



What! Another New Principal At Madison

Yes, again this year Madison has another principal. Mr. Drayer came to us this year and along with him continued the era of good feeling. With the popular change of Mr. Drayer, high spirit and enthusiasm is becoming even more a part of Madison. To see a principal talking in the halls to students, cheering enthusiastically at our sports events is unusual. Mr. Drayer is part of our school in every sense giving his all to make Madison even better.

Mr. Drayer poses for a picture.

Mr. Drayer is always friendly and open with students.

Little Hot Stuff And P.C.B. Dress Up For The Football Season

The class of '72 did it again! They took first place in the homecoming competition winning 25 pounds of candy. The seniors worked hard transforming a mass paper and glue into a winning float. The float was built again this year in Anne Stuntz's backyard.

Mr. Berryman, the director of the Madison High School Marching Band, dresses this year in the traditional band uniform as he is seen here leading the band in the National Anthem during a pre-game show.

Mr. Berryman adroitly directs the band in our National Anthem

Several Seniors worked diligently to make this a winning float.

The winning Homecoming float created by the indomitable Senior class is driven by a Vienna resident, Mr. Mayo S. Stuntz.

Madison Welcomes:

The Ecology Club, newly organized this year, went into full swing. It entered a project in the Environmental fair at Tyson's Corners, a float in the Halloween Parade, worked on the re-cycling center in Vienna, and helped in planning Earth Week activities.

The Future Business Leaders of America, a newly formed club this year, elected Louise Hallahan and Bruce Bender, Mr. and Miss F.B.L.A. They will represent the club in upcoming activities.

Madison High School has its own radio station WJMHS. This station was heard during all three lunch shifts.

Margaret Stern, Ecology Club Secretary and Cherri Styles work at a club bakesale.

Ski Club And S. O. S. Club New At Madison

S.O.S. Club float Josie and the Pussycats

The Ski Club, run by co-presidents, Ross Van Amburg and Ron Brunson has a membership of 60 students who are interested in skiing as a hobby. The club is planning a weekend trip in January. Mrs. Blosser, the club sponsor, is very enthusiastic about the potential of the club and contributes many helpful ideas.

The Society of Soul is one of the more active clubs at Madison. The club entered a float in the Homecoming Competition, and sponsored a dance in the early part of December. The sponsor, Mr. Christie really enjoys working with the club.

Swim Team Increases Sports At Madison.

The newly created swim team, under the leadership of president Keith Havens and sponsor Mr. Edmonson, had a very productive season. The most impressive meet was a 114-39 victory over a strong West Springfield team. The team also made a good showing in the Northern Va. High School Meet, placing fourth in the relay meet and second in the diving meet. The top swimmers on the team are: Debbie Allenbach, Chris Dickmeyer, Kathy Fearson, Bobbie Fiedler, Keith Havens, Dave Headley, Chris Huber, Jim Keith, Kevin Kellagher, Cathy Kelly, Sally Kimball, Janet Meadows, Phil Oosthoek, Dave Ross, Carol Sadowski, and Jim Smith.

Patty Jaggers Reigns As The First Miss Madison!

Out of the 27 radiant girls who were chosen to represent Madison, in the Miss Madison Pageant, the five finalists were Patty Jaggers, Miss Madison, Janet Alces, first runner-up, Laurie Siemens, second runner-up, Danielle Michel, third runner-up, and Judy Butler, fourth runner-up. The Pageant was sponsored by the Junior class and the F.H.A.

Changes Make Leisure Time At Madison More Enjoyable

This year the Senior class acquired a new study hall, the old SCA office. It was very spacious and exquisitely furnished with two sofas, a television set, many tables and chairs and a blackboard with messages concerning Senior activities during the year.

Also new this year was the A La Carte lunch line. This gave students a choice of sandwiches, salads, potato chips, desserts, fruit drinks and milkshakes. The A La Carte line was very popular and lent variety to the lunch menu.

They went to class?!!

Up to the lips, over the gums. Look out stomach, here it comes!

SENIORS

With the emergence of their final year, Seniors discovered a sense of awareness that soon blossomed into a spirited, unifying force. This spirit was present during those hectic college applications and for the feverish preparations for graduation just as it was at all of the sports events. At the end of the year when Seniors became aware that many friendships would soon be dissolved it was this spirit that softened the blow.

And, departing, leave behind us

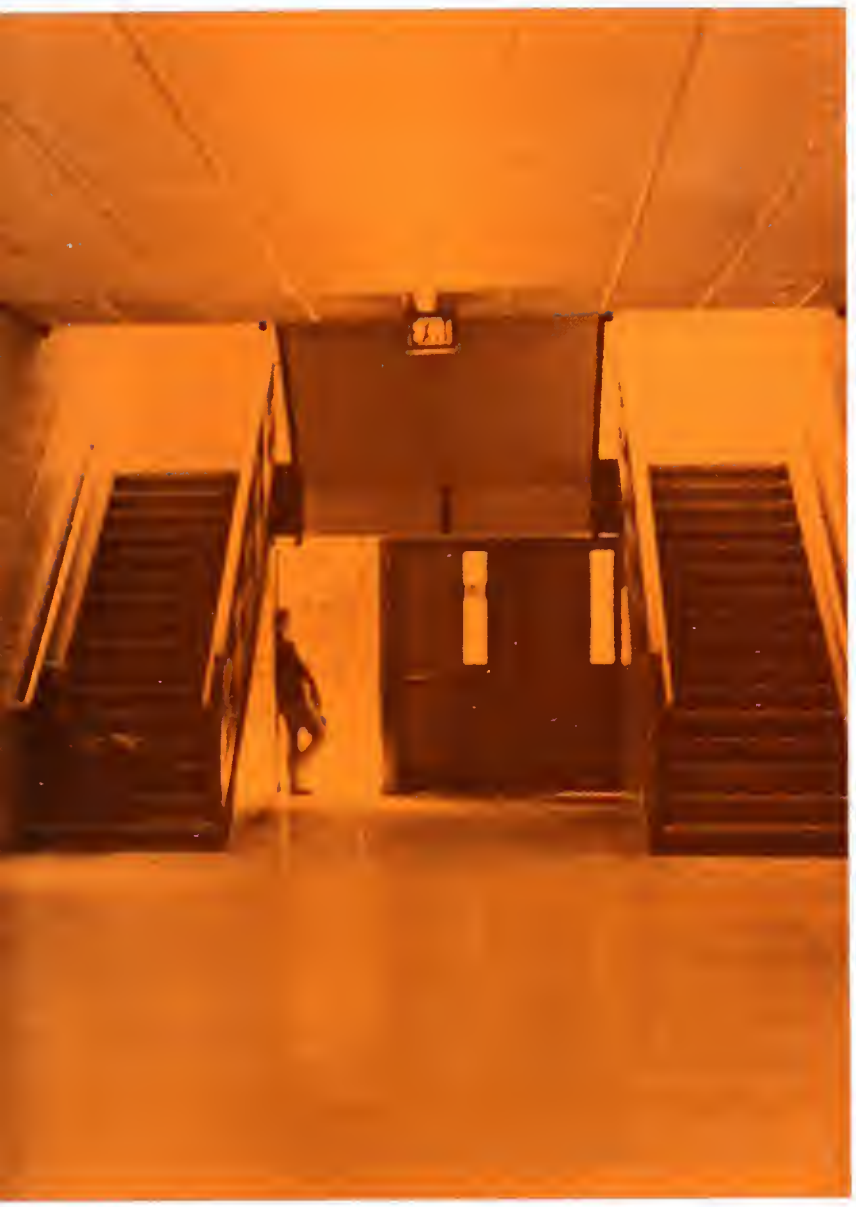
ADISON
11

Aware of the many interests at Madison, the students, with the sponsoring of faculty members, support numerous activities. The activities increase school pride. Some require hard work, while others are for relaxation and enjoyment. Whether the happening consists of a talent, a fight for victory, or just plain interest and enthusiasm, it strengthens the bond between students, faculty, and community.



HAPPENINGS

Students Prepare Early For The Coming Year . . .

Long before the doors of Madison were opened this year, many activities were in progress. The S.C.A., Cheerleaders, football teams, faculty and many other organizations were working together for a smooth opening to the 1971-72 school session. Their combined efforts proved to be successful and the year was off to a good start.

Five Semi-Finalists

Junior Class Sponsors A Miss Madison Contest, A Panel Of Judges Choose Patty Jaggers As Winner

The Miss Madison Beauty Pageant sponsored by the Junior Class was held this year for the first time. At the top of the preceding page the contestants are pictured during the evening wear competition. The program also included competition in hot pants. The five semi-finalists are pictured below them. They were (in the order they placed) Judy Butler, Danielle Michel, Laurie Siemens, Janet Alces and Patty Jaggers.

A surprised contestant exclaims "who me?"

Denise Sibilla Named Queen Of Homecoming Festival

Homecoming Queen, Denise Sibilla, reigned over a Homecoming of "comics and cartoons." Her court included: Freshmen, Jeanette Voas, Sophomore, Sharon Louthian, Junior, Diane Giovacchini, and the two Senior girls, Suzanne Chile and Carol Pickett. Aside from the football game, the traditional festivities were elaborate as ever. The floats revealed the amount of time and effort that had been put into them, and the halftime entertainment was superb. At the conclusion of the day, the annual Homecoming Dance was held, bringing the 1971 Homecoming to an end.

Everyone at Madison went all out this year to make the homecoming activities a real success. The floats were exceptionally good as shown by the Junior float below. Besides the class floats, the Society of Soul and the Madisonettes entered floats in the competition. The cheerleaders made signs and encouraged spirit during a pep assembly the Friday beforehand. Due to the great feeling of enthusiasm toward this annual event made homecoming for the alumni a great experience this year.

Thespian's Present "The Matchmaker"

The first Thespian production of the year well measured up to past performances at Madison. The acting was performed very professionally, especially the role of Dolly Levi, portrayed by senior, Allison Cheek.

Activities Ignite Student Involvement

Participation in activities at Madison this year was on the rise. Along with faculty advisors students planned their own extra curricular events, most of which were a big success!

A huge crowd turns out to see the Redskin-Faculty Basketball game.

Students Apply Themselves Differently

Development of study procedures vary from one person to another. The important factor, however, is the finished product.

Within The Course Of TheDay, There's Always Time For A Smile

Somehow it isn't as bad as it seems when you take time to smile. Even school work! Most students try it and like it.

Sharon McFarland finds her English class a big amusing at times.

Below: Who says we're too old for see saws?

When Time Permits It's Always Fun To Goof Off

Making good use of leisure time is fine, but once in awhile people like to do whatever they want. Madison students are no exceptions.

Below: Don Stitt chalks up two points for the Seniors.

Underclassmen, aware of their tremendous size and importance, were the core of a constantly increasing student body. Sensing his loyalty to both his class and his school each individual underclassman became involved in many extracurricular activities. Each has matured and grown while striving to achieve the ultimate status of a high school graduate.

Exciting Year For '73

Just about the most exciting year in high school is the junior year. It is the year of class rings and the prom. If you are college bound it means the first tastes of college nights and college boards. The students involved in the vocational program are usually preparing for jobs after graduation. There are enough activities to keep them busy, but not enough that they can't relax once in a while and enjoy those precious, unforgettable moments in high school.

Believe it or not there are things to be found to laugh at in school, and Diane Giovacchini seems to have found one of them.

Time To Relax

For sophomores, as for everyone, the year is one in which they learn and experience many new things. Their freshman year, fortunately or unfortunately, is behind them and most of them can now look forward to two more years in high school. As baby warhawks the students became familiar with the procedures their school follows, and soon they will begin to prepare seriously for college and work, so right now, the sophomores can afford a fun, little breather.

Madison's Enthusiastic Baby Warhawks

as today is the first day of the rest of their lives.
The freshman must face what the graduate survives.
With their baby warhawk cry
they can beat any bird that comes by,
Cheering at games home and away.
Almighty the freshman class will stay
With a great student body, team, and a madrigal, too.
This freshman class is best all the way through.

Aware that school life consists of more than merely attending classes, hundreds of Madison students were involved in extracurricular activities. The S.C.A. fortified these organizations by providing for constitutions so that the purpose of each would be clearly defined and that student awareness and interest would be augmented.

Art Club Has Active Year

The Art Club was quite active this year with much of its talent seen repeatedly around Madison. It sponsored several art shows, helped make decorations for major dances, and in general helped make Madison beautiful. The club was also commissioned to paint for a sales meeting which proved to be very successful.

Society Of Soul Has Charter Year

The Society of Soul was a new club at Madison this year. The purpose of the club was to unite the black students of the school. The sponsor was Mr. Christie.

They were a service organization and one of the most active clubs in the school.

Among their many activities were sponsoring a dance in December, beautifying the shrubbery around Madison Avenue, and entering a float in the Homecoming Parade Float Contest.

The Society of Soul, or SOS, shows its spirit with an entry in the Homecoming Parade. Ricky Williams drives the truck while Theressa Ellis, Kevin Goode, Joyce Thompson, Lisa Coulston, Millicent Marion, and Randy Nelson ride in back.

Madison Club Is Involved

The Madison Club, a boys' service organization, was very instrumental in promoting student participation and spirit. During sports activities they directed cars in the parking lot and collected tickets at the gates. At Christmas the club collected cans for the Salvation Army. Other projects the club sponsored were cleaning up Madison Avenue and a faculty-club basketball game.

Madisonettes Serve Many

The highly active Madisonette Club is one of Madison's most commendable clubs. They are dedicated to serving their school and community in any way possible, promoting school spirit. This year they participated in projects for charity such as AL-SAC, and the March of Dimes. They also took part in school sponsored activities such as the cans for Christmas and magazine drive. In the past year, they also held a bazaar, and a powder puff football game.

The Montpelier is awaited anxiously by all students when the end of the year approaches. The yearbook is expected to record all the experiences, events and precious memories of the past year.

In the hopes of producing an even better yearbook, this year there are two editors instead of just one. These two editors are Susan Franklin, and Mahlon Goer.

As in past years, many tardy staff become panic struck as a deadline loomed near. Although many difficulties were encountered, such as double-exposed pictures and missed deadlines, the staff somehow managed to overcome them all in turning out this yearbook.

Mr. H. Shaffer and we, the yearbook staff, hope that this yearbook accurately represents the 1971-1972 school year.

A.V. Club And Business Staff Aid School

The Audio-Visual Club was invaluable to many teachers and students this year. The club was formed to educate students in the fields of A.V., and as an aid to the school. The club went on a field trip during the year to a Fairfax County Library to observe advanced equipment.

Although behind the scenes, the Publications-Business staff is very necessary to the success of all of Madison's publications. These students conducted all of the financial transactions, circulation matters, and advertising for the yearbook, newspaper, and magazine. They also sold yearbooks and pictures at PTA meetings to raise extra money.

Hawk Talk Informs Sudents

Hawk Talk, the school newspaper, provided Madison students with information concerning all facets of student life. The staff, though well organized, struggled to meet each deadline so as to turn out a paper every three weeks. The Hawk Talk staff was composed of head editors, page editors, and "staff". Head editors handed out assignments to page editors who gave them to the "staff" to research and write up. It was the combined job of the head editors and page editors to cry when deadlines were not met. The editors of Hawk Talk were Peter Dodson, and Muffy Goer. Page editors, however, frequently varied with each issue. Mrs. Donohoe, this year's sponsor, must also be given credit for the hard work she put in on the newspaper.

Students Study Potomac River

The Science Club is a Group of Students who are interested in science and want to have a better understanding of it. The objective of the Science Club this year was to have a central overall theme to unite all the year's activities. The theme decided upon was an ecological field study of the Potomac River system. This idea was picked because it would include all the major fields of science. The club created groups to organize their studies. These were the geology and soil group, the bacteria group, the herbaceous growth group, and the water quality control group. After each field trip the separate groups compiled their data and wrote up their report. The reports will hopefully be used by "Save Our Water," which is a large public environmental interest group.

FHA Aids In Domestic Interest

The FHA (Future Homemakers of America) is one of the largest clubs at Madison. The purpose of the club is to help the community and also to encourage individual growth in the area of domestic arts. They held several parties throughout the year, both for their own pleasure and for the enjoyment of others. Among their other activities in the past year, the FHA co-sponsored the Miss Madison Pageant.

FTA Promotes Teaching Interest

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America (F.T.A.) was to promote interest in the field of teaching. The Future Teachers of America aided the teachers at Madison, Flint Hill, and Louis Archer. This experience gave these students a better insight of the teaching profession. Students did such things as grading papers to completely taking over classes. They also developed a program for the emergency covering of classes. They gave a coffee for the faculty before school began. They earned money through bake-sales to send representatives to the State Convention in Richmond. They also selected a Teacher of the Month. This was a member of the Future Teachers of America who was thought to be the most outstanding student teacher of the month.

AFS Sponsors Two Exchange Students

The American Field Service (AFS) was one of the largest and most valuable clubs at Madison. This year their purpose was to increase awareness of the peoples of the world. Their main goal each year is to raise enough money to bring one or more foreign exchange students to Madison. This year the club was able to bring two exchange students to Madison. Many students enjoyed meeting and getting to know David Taylor from England, and Suzanne Selmutter from Austria. The club sponsored several activities this year. Among these were the Discount Card Week and a Spring Carnival. The club also held assemblies and meetings throughout the year.

GAA And Varsity Club Promote Student And School Spirit

The Varsity Club, one of Madison's honorary clubs, is composed of those boys who have proved their athletic ability by winning a Varsity letter or by those who have been a manager for a Varsity Sport. While not actually participating in Madison activities, the club members were fine examples of Madison's outstanding student spirit.

The Girls Athletic Association (GAA) was quite active this year. They began the year with a very successful progressive dinner. During Christmas they collected yellow stamps and purchased 40 presents which they distributed among needy Vienna families. In the club's annual money-raising drive they sold stationery, sweatshirts, and T-shirts.

Stradegy Club Shows Quality

Through the discontent with the former Bridge and Chess Club, the Strategy Club was formed. The newly organized club was tremendously successful this year. Though their main interest was in chess, the group was also concerned with any game which requires the use of strategy. The club held intramural and interschool chess matches. Their extramural record was an undefeated 4-0. The team also took first place in the Washington-Baltimore area tournament.

Stuart Stock, Madison's finest chess player, studies the board before making his choice in one of the Chess meets.

Rick McDowell and Peter Dodson practice their debating talents as their teammates Alan Sykes and Rick Morris listen intently. David Voas, one of Madison's former students, holds up a time card.

Debate Is Highly Acclaimed

Madison's Debate Team under Mr. Bowman, their coach, was at it again this year. The Baltimore Forensic League sponsored the first debate of the year. Rick McDowell and Rick Morris head the affirmative team with the record of 2-1. Alan Sykes and Peter Dodson took the opposing side with the record of 3-0. Alan Sykes in the individual competition won sixth place and as a team Alan and Peter placed third. Other debates include Wake Forest, and, of course, the District and State matches. A new opportunity for interested debaters is the newly formed intramural debates and panel discussions open to all.

Latin Club Goes To Rome

The Latin Club has been busy this year, beginning with a classic Italian dinner at Caesar's Forum, moving on to the Saturnalia. A trip to Rome was planned for Easter vacation and the year ended with the annual banquet. Funds for these activities and more were raised by successful bakesales.

Bob Draim, president of the Latin club, works on plans for the upcoming annual Latin banquet.

Gigi Picard, though a French student, is found here studying Spanish. Gigi became interested in other foreign languages from inspiring inter-language club meetings.

Interlanguage Club Introduces Foreign Customs

The purpose of the Interlanguage club was to become acquainted with the people, customs, and languages of foreign countries. The members each had studied a foreign language, and therefore could compile their knowledge and study the nations of the world comparatively. Their meetings were highlighted by talks and films on foreign lands.

As a means of raising money for their studies, the club held an international dinner.

FBLA Activates Student Interest

The Future Business Leaders of America was fairly active during its first year at Madison. Under the supervision of sponsors Mrs. Gambill and Mrs. Fritter, and the unfaltering leadership of president Everett Bender, the club explored the field of business careers. They sponsored bake sales and planned numerous field trips, including one trip to a district court.

Louise Halahan and Bruce Bender seem pleased at being elected Mr. and Mrs. FBLA. They were both leaders in the newly formed club.

Nike Club Remains Active

The NIKE Club was started in co-operation with the Vienna Business and Professional Woman's Club to explore the fields of Woman's Careers. Although membership decreased sharply this year, the club made many attempts to stay as active as past years. Speakers came to explain careers and the education, duties and average salaries involved. The club is open to all Madison girls with a 3.0 average.

Dramatics Help Stimulate Student Involvement

The Thespians organization was one of the largest at Madison this year. The sponsor, Mrs. Nateman, was able to secure rights to The Matchmaker by Thornton Wilder after a five-year effort. The Matchmaker is the original comedy from which the Broadway musical Hello Dolly was taken. The play was given in the fall. Throughout the spring the Thespians sponsored dramatic workshops for all Madison students. They planned another production in the spring.

David Taylor and Carol Pickett are shown here participating in the Thespians Cans for Christmas skit, Can-a-lot. David is Robin Can and Carol is a merry opener.

Mr. Cacciapaglia, the Ecology Interest Group sponsor tries to persuade Ron Lacey, a prospective member, into joining the club.

Ecology Interest Club Helps Environment Awareness

The Ecology Interest Club, a newly formed club made quite an impression on Madison this year. The purpose of their formation was to make people aware of the growing problems of the environment and establish what can be done about it. Much has been done by this organization besides informing the public of the problem, a recycling center was established in Vienna as well as service given to the recycling center at Tysons. Another project included is the Earth Day activities which promote their ideals.

Majorettes Excel

The majorettes contributed greatly to the half-time shows by providing outstanding performances throughout the football season. Accompanied by our marching band the majorettes presented interesting shows based on varying themes. The talented group was led by senior co-captains Pam Madigan and Jeanette Galbraith who have both received several trophies and awards in local and state competitions. The majorettes spend many hours in practice for their presentations. Though their work demands much of their time and talent, these efforts often are unrecognized.

Patty Murray and Donna Newkirk, the majorette alternates, pose with the school banner which they carried at each Madison football game.

Suzanne Chille and Patti Skojec lead the Pom Pom Girls in a routine by the name of "Uptight". The girls performed at all home games.

Pom Poms Perform at Halftime

Although originated last year, the Pom Pom Girls did not become a major organization until this year. The Pom Pom Girls performed spectacular routines during the half-time of Varsity basketball games. The squad was loved by our competitors as well as our home fans. The girls ranged from freshmen to seniors. The squad captain was Suzanne Chille. The squad practiced almost every day of the basketball season. They also held parties after games for the squad members, the team, and friends. The Pom Pom Girls are responsible for originating the newly formed Spirit Club.

Below, the Pom Pom Girls are performing a routine by the name of "Butterball". The squad's nickname for this routine was "The Waddle Walk". Not only was this the squad's favorite, but it was also the one best performed.

Madison Band Expands Program

The James Madison High School Band was by far the organization most involved in school activities. This year's band added several new facets to its program. Along with the marching band and pep band of past years, this year's band also organized a woodwind quintet, a brass choir and a stage band. The symphonic band again represented itself well in the All Regional Band by sending fifteen members to the senior band and ten to the junior band. Besides the usual Christmas, Spring and Pops concerts the symphonic band also participated in the annual Band Festival. They also conducted an exchange concert with a Pennsylvania high school.

Madison's 1st trumpets Ken Campbell, Steve Goad, Mike O'Neill and Terry Hook rehearse a muted part by themselves. This year's 1st trumpets were greatly improved over those of past bands.

Mr. Berryman glances down at his music during one of the band's rehearsals for the Christmas Concert. Since rehearsals are only for fifty minutes, intense concentration is necessary to reach concert form. This concentration is evident on the faces of such sections as the trumpets, French horns and flutes.

Lisa Rogers, Madison's first clarinet, smiles as she looks over new music. Her smile plus the look of Joe Botticelli and Barbara Jesse seem to indicate the music is a little bit hard.

Mr. Berryman takes time to point out to Susan Methven certain "misinterpretations" of the music.

The baritone section, Everett Bender, Mark Webb, and Stephen Wagner rehearse some of the more difficult music. Everett, the section leader, was one of the finest in the state.

Madison's fine french horn section practices the piece, The Hunters, an F horn feature.

Choir Preforms Superbly

The Madison Concert Choir and Madrigal singers continued to maintain the high quality of performance which they have achieved under the excellent leadership of Robert Schafer. This year's choir performed at the National Presbyterian Church, the National Gallery of Art, and the Kennedy Center. Some of the more challenging pieces the choir performed this year were the Faure Requiem. Missa Brevis by Palistrina, B Minor Mass by Bach, the Schutz Magnificat, and Canticium Poerum Trium by Praetarius.

The choir strives to achieve tone blend, breath control, sound intensity and precision. In order to maintain the choir's excellent reputation each member of the choir was required to give full devotion to their music.

Mr. Shafer leads the choir in their daily breathing exercises. In addition to their class period during the school day, the choir spent many extra hours learning and rehearsing their music for their important concerts. Throughout the year the choir performed in the Madison tradition of excellence. Among their successful appearances was a superb performance at the Kennedy Center as the only high school group to sing there during the season.

New Orchestra Builds For Future

This year Madison High School's excellent Music Department added to it's program an Orchestra. Directed by Mr. Blake, the Sinfonietta consisted of woodwinds, brass, percussion, and most importantly, strings.

Though it takes two or three years to build a strong program Mr. Blake made a fine background for future years. Besides entering the annual NBODA Band and Orchestra Festival, the orchestra gave several concerts throughout the community to elementary and pre-school children.

The orchestra had many fine individual performers. Four string players participated in the Northern Division of the Virginia State Orchestra.

Although the orchestra was handicapped by the usual pitch problems of high school level string players, they did show great promise for future years.

Mr. Blake shows Donna Browning the correct form for playing her violin. Mr. Blake besides directing the orchestra gave individual attention to many of the string players.

Shown here in the classic position of a music director is Mr. Blake preparing to begin a piece.

String instruments take many hours to practice and unending patience by student and parent both. Dennis Thorpe, the orchestra's bass player, is found here practicing during a free time.

Heritage Assembles Madison Prose

In addition to a newspaper, and a yearbook, Madison also has a literary magazine, Heritage. This year the Heritage staff produced one issue, a cumulation of writings and artistic work of Madison students from the entire year. The pieces in the magazine were contributed not only from the staff, but also accepted works of the entire student body.

QUILL AND SCROLL: Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for juniors and seniors who have shown outstanding ability on Madison's publications. This year's members are Rita Purcell, Johanna Nordlie, Peter Dodson, Betsy Chittenden, Muffy Goer and Jeff Sconyers.

Girls Soccer Best In Area

The Madison Girls' Soccer Club enjoyed a highly successful season in 1971. Compiling an overall record of 7-1-2, our girls took the Fairfax Youth Police League Tournament championship with a 2-1 victory over their major rival the Fairfax Tigers. A legal technicality prevented the girls from being awarded the traditional championship cup, yet this did not detract from the fact that Madison fielded the top team in the league. Cindy Darracott and Gail McCarty were both instrumental in Madison's great showing during the regular season and the tournament.

D.E. Club Presents Opportunities

The D.E. (Distributive Education) Club is composed of those students who are involved in vocational training. The club is a co-curricular activity. This year the club was very active. They co-sponsored the school store with Mrs. Hopkins, attended fashion seminars, and co-operated wihth the Washington Board of Trade to sponsor programs on shoplifting at area junior high schools. President Jim Thompson and secretary Karin Knowles participated in a Vocational Education Advisory Committee.

SCA Gets Board Representative

The SCA though continually bogged down by procedures, made a valiant attempt to escape the apathetic attitude of recent Madison SCA's. Spirited on by President Scott Tshirgi, Vice President George Polk, and Treasurer Ann Purcell the SCA did eliminate some of the problems from the schools ancient constitution. Monthly meetings were held and Mike Skojec was sent as Madison's representative to the School Board meeting where a Fairfax County High School student from Herndon High School was given a paying position.

Ski Club Organized

The newly formed ski club got off to a slow start due to a lack of snow this year, but this did not prevent the members from enjoying their new club. The club's purpose was to introduce and promote the sport of skiing to those who would like to become acquainted with it. Though in its first year it seems that the club was successful in its purpose as many members had never skied before.

The club enjoyed a week-end trip to Seven Springs, Pa. and later a one day trip to Bryce Mountain.

Led by co-presidents Ross VanAmburg and Ron Brunson, the club had many lively meetings in which they made plans for future trips. They also discussed ideas in accomplishing their main goal which is the future establishment of extramural competition skiing.

Honor Society Provides Tutors

The Honor Society is composed of juniors and seniors with at least a 3.2 grade average. Members must also have exhibited merit in scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Though primarily an inactive club, the society did offer a tutoring service as in past years. This year however, under the direction of Barry Bender, this service was given at an earlier date than in the past so as to benefit the student body.

SPORTS

Brought about by a disasterous football season, a new awareness, the bitterness of defeat touched the Madison community. Behind the efforts of all of the sports teams, both boys' and girls', was a deeper awareness. Athletic competition in victory as well as in defeat, had created a spirited unity.

1971 Season
A Disappointment

The 1971 season terminated with Madison compiling a 1-9 record, Herndon being their only victim. A lack of overall consistency hindered the team's fortunes this year. While Madison's offense was sputtering, the defense exhibited a contrast between brilliance via the Herndon game and befuddlement via T. C. Williams. In their 21-18 loss to W-L the Warhawks demonstrated their potential to score quickly, but fumbles and interceptions throughout the season restrained the team from scoring with any regularity. Perhaps the team's finest performance occurred against district champion Oakton. Only a "freak" play prevented the Hawks from pulling off a stunning upset. The turning point of the season was the loss to Langley. After playing the Saxons even, for a half, the gridders were completely dominated by Langley for the remainder of the game. This contest coupled with the heartbreaking loss to W-L seemed to sap the spirit of the team, as well as, set the tone for the rest of the season. Despite a large number of returning lettermen, graduation at key positions will hurt the team, making it impossible to determine the fate of next year's squad.

Madison's defense digs in, attempting to check Langley in their district opener. After playing a spirited first half, the defense was unable to withstand Langley's constant pressure in this 31-6 loss. Below: Will Barnard sets the Warhawk offense against McLean.

Madison may well look forward to some fine ball clubs if the freshman team is to be an indication of coming years. In the 1971 football season the freshman team had far and away the best record of all teams at Madison.

This freshman team under the intense coaching of Mr. Weaver, Mr. Cave, and Tom Detterman has evolved into a strong versatile unit. Not only has this team's defense held the opposition to 32 points in 6 games, but their running game is considered the best in the District. With the backbone being largely running, quarterback Pat Samson has also developed a fine passing game. Andy Sullivan and Keith Nacquin both have had a remarkable year. Halfback Allan Murcer and linebacker Mike Clautier have also contributed greatly to this fine team effort. With the potential such as this the future certainly looks promising.

J.V. High In Spirit

This year's J.V. campaign ended with a 1-6-1 record. Although the record doesn't show it this has been a successful year in building team spirit and tremendous competition. Mr. Hannah and Mr. Fish established the fundamentals needed to build a strong team. This year's season was highlighted with a 6-0 victory over Marshall. A third quarter interception led to the winning touchdown. These boys will certainly help to build a strong winning team next year.

Cross Country
A Study in Hard Times

Lacking depth and experience, the cross country team could only look forward to a tough season. For the indomitable Mr. Davis, in his fourth year of coaching, it was like running uphill. Because three veteran runners did not go out this year, the team consisted of only one letterman, Bob Murray, to complement the presence of five newcomers. The twelve man team, smallest in the area, had to compete in a district which includes, according to Coach Davis, "the three toughest teams in the county".

It was the attitude and pride of the Madison runners that carried them through the season. Led by seven seniors, including team captain Keith Havens, the team never quit. Aside from Keith and Bob Murray, strong performances were also turned in by junior Tom Murray and freshman sensation Chuck Forbes. However, if the team's record is ever to become indicative of its spirit, more underclassmen, particularly freshmen and sophomores, will have to participate.

Terry Jones displays the grimace of pain after completing the brutal cross country course. Terry was one of the few seniors on a relatively young team.

Late Season Surge Enabled .500 Finish

Madison finished the 1971-1972 basketball campaign with a 10-10 mark and a third place finish in the Great Falls District. What the record will not show is the adversity the Hawks as a team overcame in order to reach the .500 plateau . Madison started slowly, but finished the season by winning seven of its last ten games. A disheartening 69-61 loss to Oakton in the District tournament semi-finals dampened a season that should be regarded with pride by everyone associated with Madison's program.

The topsy-turvy year provided many highlights for the throng of faith full in attendance at courtside. A classy come from behind 54-51 victory over Falls Church kicked-off the 1971-1972 season. For the next ten games though the Hawks were noted chiefly for their inconsistency, the ninety three points scored against Langley in a thrilling encounter between District rivals established a school record. When looked at with the 30 point loss to lowly Edison one can get a vivid pictured of the basketball team's fortunes in the early going.

The arrival of Marshall seemed to awaken the slumbering B'Ballers, for the remainder of the season, a tenacious defense, hustly and a deliberate offense became the Hawks basic traits. The thirty eight points if yielded to Mclean is a fine example of the defense played. The most exciting contests were the three Marshall victories. While each game had its' own unique flavor, they followed the time tested tradition of the rivalry. Perhaps the most complete team game was the 16 point victory over Oakton. Madison, not only, dictated the style or play, but played a stingy defense, and produced a balanced scoring attack. The District Champion Cougars were devasted to say the least at the conclusion of the contest. The 57-51 victory over Yorktown saw Madison conquer two long time nemises, a decided height disadvantage and a zone defense. The second half of the season resulted in the brilliant development of Junior Wayne Doleski, who had three super games against Marshall. Statistically George Shihda and Roger Carroll teamed with Roger Neighborgal to dominate the boards while Doyle Haynes (17.3 pt.) and All-district Selection Roger Carroll (14.8) provided the fire power.

Warhawks Battle Taller Woodson Underneath

Madison battled heavily favored Woodson evenly for 3½ quarters before succumbing 87-78 in a non-district thriller. Woodson featuring a front line of 6'10", 6'9" and 6'6" were unable to outmuscle the Hawks "big" men in this physical contest.

Tournament Victories Bring Madison Championship

Tournament victories over Marshall and Oakton enabled the Junior Varsity to capture the Great Falls District title. Alan Rose's basket in the closing seconds brought Madison this coveted honor. Throughout their 13-7 season the J.V. were noted for their balanced attack. Brian McMahon, Eric Best, Robbie Slingerman, provided the scoring punch from the outside while Murcer, Rose, and Regan dominated the inside play. Coach McLean in winning his first district title as J.V. coach had the team at its peak for the tournament. The overtime victory against Marshall, a team that had beaten Madison twice before was a preview of the finale with Oakton. Madison reasserted its domination over the Cougars with their third victory at Oakton's expense. This game was typical of the J.V.'s spirit, hustle and never say die attitude. Congratulations Champs.

Frosh Soar To District Championship

1971-1972 Freshman Basketball team was truely in a class by itself. Only a late season loss to Langley blemished what was a near perfect season. Few of the contests were close as the B'Ballers simply overpowered their opposition. A tenacious defense which stubbornly yielded 33.2 pts. a game was complemented by a finely polished offense which produced 75.5 pts. Vince Villani (14.3 pt.) and Greg Jones (12.5 pt.) combined to form the heart of the Frosh's potent attack, while Andy Sullivan played consistantly well at guard. First year coach, Tom Nuttal should be congratulated for his job in molding these diversified individuals into a disciplined basketball unit. The 11-1 Record and the Great Falls District championship are two accomplishments the team can take pride in. This season should be impetus enough for these young men to continue in the winning tradition that they have established in their first year at Madison.

Wrestlers Record Most Productive Season

Under the direction of Coach Verciglio the Madison wrestling program has made great strides forward. This year was no exception. The grapplers with a mark of 9 wins and 3 losses recorded the best season in the history of Madison. This team had many outstanding wrestlers, but Senior Bob Friedhoff was truly exceptional. Definitely Madison's Most Valuable wrestler Bob went through the regular season with a 12-0 mark at his 156 lb. weight class. In the tournaments Friedhoff won District and Regional titles. Only a 5-3 loss in the State Finals prevented Bob from an undefeated season and a state title. Conrad Osterwalder at 112 was Madison's other district winner. Seniors John Addy (7-4) at 126, Bill Corkery (8-2) at 132 and David Thompson 4-7 at unlimited wrestled vigorously throughout giving Madison strength up and down the various weight classifications. Craig Bowman at 119 and John Lafever at 185 also performed admirably. This season is the direct result of hard work and a great deal of determination on the part of Coach Verciglio and his fine wrestling squad.

John Lafever and his opponent walk off the mat together after their match in the District tournament at Langley. The fatigue of each wrestler is clearly evident.

John Addy at 126 (wt. class) is a three year veteran of varsity wrestling. John is utilizing his experience in this District wrestling contest as he is on the verge of pinning his opponent, thus giving him additional points.

Bill Corkery a senior in the 132 lb. classification clearly has the upperhand in this match. Bill was noted for his quickness and constantly thrilled the spectators with his unique and exciting style of wrestling. He exhibited his style with fine performances in both the Regional and District tournaments.

John Addy stalks his opponent in the first period of a match in the district tournament. John's performance in the tournament was good enough to qualify him for a berth in the regional tournament.

Junior C. Osterwalder the Great Falls District Champion in division is about to achieve the goal of all wrestlers, the pin. There is absolutely no conceivable way this Falls Church Jaguer matman can escape this predicament. Madison lost to the Jaguers though 24-21.

198 lb. Shollhamer is getting ready to execute one of his many moves from the referees position in a match against Falls Church. Shollhamer in his first varsity season finished with a record of 7-5 and qualified for Regionals.

Dave Thompson stalks his foe in an unlimited match. Dave did a fantastic job this year compiling a 4-7 record despite giving up anywhere from 30-45 pounds to his bulkier opponents. Dave's performance against Gorten typified the courage he exhibited during the season.

Conrad Osterwalder (Right, below) is in the Referee's position ready to pounce on his opponent at an opportune moment.

Kneeling Morrison, Wellis, Hetu, Wahlen, Harris, Flander, Staponvich. Standing Coach Maguschak; Cockrel, Edwards, Harvey Brown, Harris.

J.V. Overwhelms Opposition Capture District Title

This year's J.V. wrestling squad was simply unbelievable. The wrestlers did not just beat their opponents they distrayed them. On two occasions the powerful J.V. shut out their foes which is almost never done. Three wrestlers, Whalen, Staponowich and Harris enjoyed undefeated seasons. Flanders, Brown Edwards and Hetu contributed greatly to the team's success. With a 9-1 record the J-V captured their second consecutive district title. The wrestling program is beginning to flex its muscles in a Northern Virginian Competition.

Soccer Becomes Varsity Sport

After a wait of some sixteen years "soccer" came to Madison. The most popular sport in the world usually called football gave the athletic program some needed vitality. Though the wait was long, the student body soon caught glimpses of why soccer has gained such prominence world-wide. The soccer team playing a most competitive schedule revealed the excitement of this "alien" sport. The pace was always fast and furious. Their desire was clearly seen as they continually played with reckless abandon. Though the intricacies of the game are still unbeknown to most of the spectators greater support is anticipated. The 1972 soccer team was Madison's first. It was a team that could be characterized as a team of spirit, steadfast in their pursuit of excellence and sportsmanship.

Determination Characteristic, Madison's 1972 Track Team

Madison track has had a rich tradition but in the past few years the team has not been very successful. This year's track team tried to climb from the depths of despair into the heights of exhiliration, but could never reach this goal. They were hindered by inexperience and a lack of overall depth. It seems if Madison is ever again to attain the height it once was so to achieve a greater degree of participation is needed. It is your trackmen. They need your help. Though short on talent the track team never gave up. Most days a casual observing standing near the track would see a group of dedicated track enthusiasts along with Coach Cave and Fish working into the sunset. There were many outstanding individual performers on the team. Last year's M.V.P. Andy March dominated the statistics. While contributing greatly in the sprints, Andy was simply super in the hurdles. Keith Havens was consistently outstanding in the mile. A better season is expected next year only if the team is given the school's full support.

Winning Tradition Continues in Baseball

During the past four years Madison's baseball team has won two state titles, three regional titles, four district titles and second place finishes in both state and regional competition. This is a record few schools in any sport could match. This year's team carried on in this rich tradition. The team demonstrated their hustle and desire in all situations. They acted and played like the champions they are. Co-captains Tom Determan and Ron Riley provided the leadership by example and outstanding play. Under the helm of rookie coach Joe Verciglio Madison succeeded in living up to the rich heritage that Madison baseball denotes.

J.V. Prepares For Varsity Competition

This year's Junior Varsity team showed a great deal of promise. The team will surely help next year's Varsity. Under the direction of Barry Williams these freshmen and sophomores became acquainted with the basic fundamentals of baseball. By the end of the year, their hitting, bunting and base running had vastly improved. It is hoped that this improvement will continue into next year's Varsity play.

Golfers Dominate District Play

The 1972 Golf Team hopes to continue its domination in the Great Falls District. Ever since the inception of the league Madison has been its champion. The team has also captured numerous regional titles as well as fine performance in the state tournament. Don Haverman and Kevin Pett are expected to lead this year's group. Jeff Brumit, Gary McIntosh, Andre Koneczany, and Bob Cheu round out the first six.

Tennis Team in Rebuilding Year

With only one returning player Coach Norm Chaudet must mold this team from scratch. In a sport where experience is ever so important a highly successful season is very improbable in the tough Great Falls District. A new look on this years team is the presence of two female participants. While this may not be a great tennis team it sure will be interesting to see how Madison's representatives of women's lib fare against those male chauvinists.

A Madison Doubles team get ready for the district opener. The Hawks due to the brutal weather have had only three weeks of practice before the season opener.

Coach Norm Chaudet discusses strategy with two female members on the tennis team. Those locker room strategy sessions have taken on a new dimension this year.

Varsity Cheerleaders Show Outstanding Spirit

The 1971-72 varsity cheerleading squad was made up of both junior and senior girls. Led by co-captains Diane Vail and Cindy Marr and sponsored by Miss Bullock, these girls worked the entire year to promote spirit in the student body for our various athletic teams. Their time was divided up between all the varsity sports including the more obvious football and basketball. The unfailing trust they put in their team gave the players that extra something they needed to make the game a real battle. Through the introvention of these outstanding girls, the students of every age have felt "akin" to each of their favorite teams at one time. This feeling of "getting it all together" is perhaps the greatest achievement of all. We, the students, wish to thank them.

Co-Captain Diane Vail does a perfect split.

Junior Varsity Make It Big

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are made up of twelve girls elected by their own class. These girls draw pep and spirit from the crowd and cheer their teams on to victory. Working at all athletic events, they help to create, promote and extend spirit. Along with the usual cheerleading activities, the J.V. squad also holds bakesales, decorates hall lockers and helps out at the annual sport banquets held in honor of specific teams. Sponsored by Miss Bullock, the girls are led by co-captains Jean Ball and Ann Yoshihoshi. Madison stands proud!

Miss Bullock, Madison's Cheerleading sponsor, has been a great asset to the squads.

Frosh Cheerleaders Add The Spirit

Selected carefully by their own classmates, the Freshman cheerleading squad played an important role in promoting spirit within their class. The eight girls consist of: Patty Huhn, Vicki Cloud, Lisa Sommers, Jeanette Voas, Jackie Thompson and Toni Prencipe with Karen Giovacchini and Jackie Fox as their two co-captains. Their sponsor is also Miss Bullock and with her help, they have proved to all of Madison that the "Baby Warhawks" are not all that young and inexperienced as is said. Way to go Freshmen!

The spirited freshman cheerleaders give all they've got at the Homecoming game.

At the Homecoming game, the newly chosen freshman cheerleaders showed their spirit on their decorated car.

Mrs. Birch, the Varsity Hockey Team's coach, confers with her two team co-captains, Lori Tiller and Diana Okon, about the day's game strategy.

Despite various distractions, the girls hockey team diligently practice for their games ahead.

Varsity Team Looks Great

This year's Madison Hockey Team had a very successful season. The team exhibited skillful tactics of both offense and defense throughout the entire season which proved to be the winning factor for this team. Coached by Mrs. Birch the team went on to have a great season of 4-2-2 after starting off the season undefeated in their first three games. Although proud of this record, Mrs. Birch felt that the team was capable of a much better year and possibly a perfect season. Next year they hope to try harder and end the season undefeated with a perfect record.

J.V. Girls Also Excel

The girls Junior Varsity team played an extremely vigorous season. Coached by Miss Pound, a Madison gym teacher, they were led on to a rather disappointing season record of two wins and six ties. Despite the inferior appearance of their record, they played hard and put much spirit and effort into their games. Determination also played an important part in this team's activities this fall. Each player became deeply involved in the sport. Madison commends them.

Girl's Basketball Season Is Another Good One

The Girl's Basketball team averages two games a week. Last year the team tied first in district and several players are returning this year, including seniors Janet Gleason, Lori Tiller, and Patty Streets. Lori Tiller and Patty Streets are the co-captains who brought the basketball team to their great victories, under the coaching of Miss Dean.

Girl's J.V. Basketball Has A Promising Future

The Junior Varsity Girl's Basketball team has shown outstanding characteristics. This looks like it will be a promising year for these girls. Denise Polk and Linda Sattler, who are the team's co-captains, have led the team to great victories. Mrs. Sauseline, the coach of the team, says she is proud of their great accomplishments.

Denise Polk and Linda Sattler are this years J.V. co-captains.

Janet Gleason fires over all the other players.

With perfect aim, this player passes off.

Striving, this Warhawk adds two more points.

Girls Varsity Does It!

The Girls Varsity basketball squad finished up this year with a perfect record. With the help of strong seniors Janet Gleason and Lori Tiller, these girls remained undefeated the entire season and at times totalled up very impressive scores or "smears" as they are called in basketball jargon. As the onlooker can quickly tell, these girls know their basketball and easily put down their opponents in games of precision and skill. Their only remote contender, McLean, was also soon disposed of and the girls were on their way to the best season ever. These girls must be congratulated by all for a job well done.

As usual all attention is centered towards the jump ball.

Despite guards Thea Bertola gets off a shot.

In goes another basket and up goes the score!

Jan Gleason sinks another foul shot.

Madison's gymnastic team performed to the standards set by the team last year. Living up to their impressive records of last year, the girls improved greatly this year. Gaining a greater number of team members this year, they perfected their own individual talents and as usual looked very impressive. This team consisted of eighteen girls who demonstrated their superb skills in all fields of gymnastics. With a combination of both grace and strength, these girls still managed to appear dainty and feminine. They performed on such apparatuses as the uneven bars, the horse, the balance beams and the tumbling mats, learning individual skills on each individual piece of equipment. With the addition of new uniforms, our team looked most impressive when it came to competition with other schools. Though there are some faithful fans for these girls, they still wish that more people would become aware of the fascinating and graceful sport. They realize the skills required to qualify for the team but they also welcome any person who is interested in gymnastics and who is willing to exert great energy and time.

Above; Kym Martin displays excellent form as she performs her "angel balance" on the uneven bars. Below; Cris Jaddick also works out on the uneven bars as she practices getting in shape for her next meet.

Forcefully Janet Gleason hits away.

Daily practice is required for these girls.

Patiently Coach Milbourne teaches the team.

Girls Softball Moves!

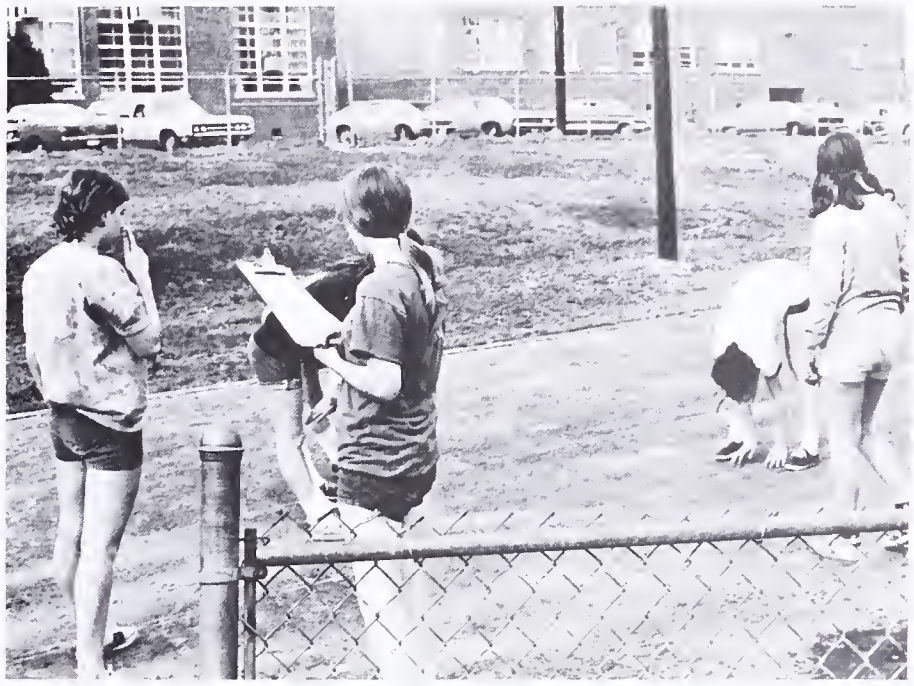
The girls Varsity and J.V. Softball teams began practice in the late winter and early spring. Despite frigid temperatures and bad weather, these girls practiced daily until dark. Coached on by the helpful gym teachers these girls were soon ready for the hard schedule of games they had this year with their first game being against Robinson on April 18 at home. Some returning girls are Lori Tiller, Jan Gleason, and Diana Okon.

Running through the game routine they improve.

Jeanette Galbraith practices her catching technique while Lori Tiller looks on.

This time, Lori slams it away as Jeanette watches.

As usual, the girls limber up with callisthenics before every practice.



Members of the track team perform exercises at the start of each practice.

With determination and energy, each girl paces herself.

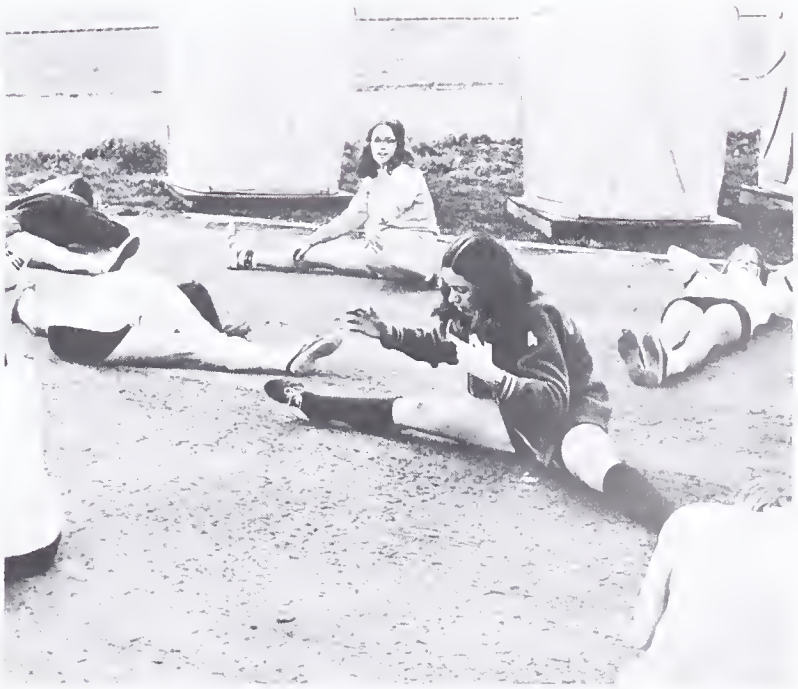
Track Team Comes Through This Season

This is the first formal year of the girls track team. Mrs. Birch has effectively organized all the girls here at Madison who were interested in running, jumping or throwing. They hold daily practices and have at least one meet a week. These girls willingly gave up their valuable free time for the pursuit of their favorite sport. The team needs publicity and all the members feel that any spectators would be welcome. Go team!

Margie Bowers seems to fly as she adds speed.

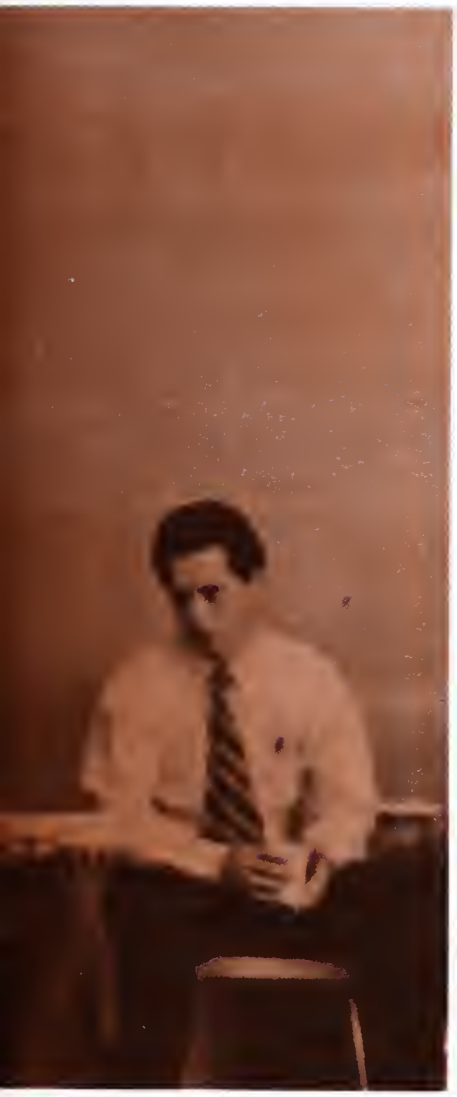
One lone runner gasps as she rounds the turn.

One team member rests while the others continue limbering up.



The girls practice leg-stretching exercises in their workout.

Without the efforts of the devoted faculty and administration, the achievements of Madison's students would not have been possible. Student accomplishments reflect the talents of the faculty whether they be in sports, the arts, or the sciences. Although under tremendous pressures, such as the increased enrollment and tedious schedules, teachers and administrators continued willingly to become involved in student activities and, aware of struggling scholars, to cheerfully help them on their own time.



FACULTY

Administration

"ADMINISTRATION;n; the management of any office, employment, or organization; direction." (The Random House Dictionary, 1966). The administration at Madison is not merely compiled of signers of official papers (in triplicate). It is the administration's chosen duty (as Random House put it) (to give) "direction" to the pursuits of adult life.

The End

The Madison community is fortunate to have businessmen who are concerned with high school students. They are supporters of our athletic teams, they provide us with part-time jobs and they continue to help finance our yearbook by purchasing advertisements. Aware that the quality of this publication could not be maintained without this support, we wish to express our sincere gratitude.
